COACHING FOR IMPACT

The Power in the Administrator-Coach Partnership

Anchored in Jim Knight's Partnership Principles, this dynamic, solutions-oriented session will focus on the partnership between instructional coaches and school/district leaders. Through reflection, practical tools, and structured processes, participants will learn how to build coherence between coaching and leadership to drive meaningful, measurable improvement.

In this workshop, teams will:

- ♦ Align efforts around shared goals.
- ♦ Clarify roles of instructional coaches and school/district leaders.
- ♦ Strengthen collaboration to ensure continuous improvement.

To support the purpose and structure of this workshop, at least one instructional coach and one school/district leader are expected to attend together. To maximize the number of districts that can participate, we kindly ask that each district limit their team to no more than six participants.
